

CHANGE THE GAME

Strength through innovation

To be the leading innovative sales and marketing company for New Zealand strongwool.

From the Chief Executive

Wools of New Zealand are excited to announce new strategic partnership with DuPont

The Wools of New Zealand team are working with DuPont Industrial Biosciences (DuPont) to create a new generation of products for textiles that will offer enduring performance characteristics with a sustainable, eco-friendly profile.

DuPont works with customers across a wide range of industries to make products and industrial processes more efficient and sustainable. DuPont are the original inventors of Nylon, Kevlar and Teflon. DuPont has 150 research and development facilities located around the world an average investment of $2 billion annually in a diverse range of technologies for many markets including agriculture and industrial materials. DuPont employs more than 10,000 scientists and engineers around the world.

In recent years DuPont have re-invented themselves to focus on renewables and have values and a purpose that align extremely well with Wools of New Zealand's strategy.

Bringing together our world-leading source traceability and technology with DuPont's global leadership in bio-sustainable, high-performance materials inspired this collaboration of expertise and products, scheduled for release in 2018.

"Wools of New Zealand is truly a leader in responsible wool supply. This level of care, along with their devotion to innovation and quality control is exactly what we at DuPont seek in partners," said DuPont™ Sorona® Global Segment Leader John Sagrati. "They occupy a premium position in their market and have a proven track-record of performance and sustainability with the unique capability to deliver consistent, tailored fibres."

DuPont is a major global business that has been able to bring biomaterials to market on a commercial-scale. Like us, DuPont is committed to delivering added value innovation without compromising the planet or it's inhabitants. Together with our combined resources and know-how we can create an exciting, brand-new yarn that aligns with our purpose to change the game through innovation and to connect the people who grow our fibre with the end consumer.
